

10 Reasons to choose ILS

	Reason	Benefit to you
1.	Every ILS client is assigned to one of our experienced, dedicated project managers.	You are assured of consistent, exceptional service from an accessible individual who understands your specific needs.
2.	We use only native speaking, professional translators who are assigned to your project based on subject matter expertise.	Your translation is provided by a highly experienced subject matter expert who comprehends your message fully and localizes it for your target audience.
3.	ILS can manage your multiple language projects seamlessly.	We guarantee that you receive a single, consistent message for your entire target audience, regardless of how many languages you need.
4.	We follow our documented ISO 9001:2008 quality process on every project.	Standards are in place (and audited by an independent 3 rd party) to ensure that you receive accurate and audience appropriate translations, on time, every time.
5.	ILS maintains a client specific “translation memory”, by language of your translated phrases.	You can expect consistency in translated terms from one project to the next that reflects your stated preferences. Lead times and project costs are minimized as the database grows over time.
6.	Formatting of translated files is available into most commonly used tagged file formats and desktop publishing applications.	For little or no additional cost, you can receive translated In Design, Frame Maker, HTML or XML files (among others), fully proof read & ready for your immediate use. No need for you to cut and paste.
7.	ILS project managers build and maintain a “translation team” to meet your project needs.	Your translations are consistently managed by a group of individuals who understand your products and your special requirements.
8.	ILS has been providing quality translations to businesses since 1982.	You benefit from the long standing relationships we have developed over 30 years with top notch medical device, industrial and technical translators.
9.	On time delivery and client satisfaction are continuously measured (with excellent results!) as part of our ISO process.	You can count on the entire ILS team to be fully committed to delivering quality translations to you.
10.	Exceeding your expectations is our goal!	You can expect prompt, professional service at a competitive price for each and every project.
